BSOU Proudly Announces & Invites You to (our 12th):

Shubh-Milan Din 2010

Being held on Saturday, September 18, 2010 at Ramada Inn, 999 Route 1 South, North Brunswick, NJ 08902.

Message to Parents:

As a parent, you must be concerned about finding the most suitable life partner for your daughter or son. After eleven years of organizing Shubh-Milan Din events and dealing with thousands of youngsters and parents, we know that the issue of marriage is very difficult to broach for parents and you don't seem to have a great deal of control or influence. Your children feel that they are capable of finding their own life partner or more importantly, they don't like the idea of "being arranged married" or finding someone at a function like Shubh-Milan Din. However, these same youngsters don't have any problems with being "introduced to someone by friends" or becoming members of matrimonial websites. Here is what you need to know and share with your children about Shubh-Milan Din (SMD):

1. SMD has a successful track record of 11 years, where thousands of Brahmin youth (age 21 to 40) participated and many matches (engagements or marriages) have been made.
2. SMD is NOT a meat market and your child will not be put on display or subjected to ridicule or embarrassment.
3. Finding a life partner (especially, the right life partner) is not easy. Focus your energies where you have great chances of success in meeting people likeminded people from similar background, values and belief system. SMD is a unique event where these types of people come together with singular purpose of meeting others with the ultimate hopes of getting engaged or married.
4. SMD is NOT about "Meeting & Marrying"; rather it is place for your children to meet, be seen and initiate friendships that would ultimately result in something everlasting.
5. So far, NO Brahmin convention has been announced for this year. So take advantage of this opportunity. Meet people from your own community.
6. Marriage is not about marrying a person, marriage is about finding a person with the right foundation, family and sanskar!
7. SMD allows for parents or siblings to also meet each other in one place. This is an important aspect.
8. SMD is also a place to learn about the ins & outs of how to successfully find the right match...
9. SMD is organized by BSOU, a non-profit organization that cares for all of us, not someone that wants to make money!

Message to Young Brahmins who are Single:

You may be 23 or 32 and may be feeling the pressure of "marriage". Your parents are worried about you getting married and you may be too. There may be many things going through your head and some of the following will sound familiar: You feel that you're too young to start thinking about marriage or that you can find someone on your own. You feel that you may not be ready to get married as you're still focusing on your education or career. You don't like the idea of being arranged married. You can't possibly meet someone at a desi function! You will find someone easily when you are ready to get married. Well, since this will be the eleventh time that we organize SMD, we know that this process works and allow us to tell you why you should attend

1. It's NOT easy to find a life partner and there is never a right time to start looking and meeting people! SMD is NOT about arranged marriage; rather it is a platform for people to meet.
2. Where else can you meet hundreds of other people in a non-threatening, comfortable and fun environment?
3. Our Speed Dating event is so popular that even married couples wish that they were single, so that they could participate in it. Really! By the end of the event, you will know who likes you and if there's a match with you.
4. Everyone always says that they are so glad that they participated in SMD. You will be too.
5. Stop wasting time, money and effort by relying on luck, friends, parties and websites to find your life partner!
6. We are planning some cool events and activities! We have a lot of fun – always – and this time will be NO different.
7. This event will be organized and run by four successful veterans and organizers of SMD: Amy, Nimisha, Uday & Nailesh. All four found each other at previous SMDs.
8. Due to heavy interest, this event is sure to bring a large crowd together; increase your chances by being there.
9. You will not have to worry about food, refreshments and entertainment as we will take care of it
10. Each attendee will get a prominent profile and a directory as well.
11. We will have volunteers to help with actual match making.
12. Our activities are designed in such a clever way so that you can meet and qualify people immediately!
13. Your life partner may be already registered, shouldn't you?

Register today to meet smart, young, successful & attractive fellow Brahmins from the United States, Canada, UK and India by visiting www.BSOU.org!
